

BTCC's Rob "Hollywood" Holland to give Racers Who Care's Quick Tips talk

- Posted on 15/07/2014

It's Snetterton's turn to hold the BTCC (British Touring Car Championship) at the end of the month, and with it brings some famous faces. Rob "Hollywood" Holland, in liaison with racers who care", are looking for a school, summer camp, group home, or youth organization in this area that would be interested in hosting a free, Quick Tips on "Winning in Life" presentation to a group of children or young people. With this fantastic, unique opportunity Rob will share his experiences with negotiating potholes and barricades on his road to career success, with practical suggestions for kids and teens on how they can implement Quick Tips such as Learn the Art of Teamwork, Be Flexible with Dreams and Goals, Explore Your Talent and Creativity, Take the Long View, Study - Knowledge is Power, and more, in their own lives to achieve their own successes. If you are interested in this event, please email racers who care, visit racerswhocare.org or find more information about Rob and the talk